Wool.

[From the San Francisco Commercial Herald.]

Boston presents beyond all comparison the best market for our wool. Of 1,541 woolen mills in the United States, in 1865, Massachusetts had 260, and New York 278, but the consumption of scoured wool in the Massachuetts mills in that year was 857,496 pounds weekly, and in those of new York it was only 236,510, being a difference of 620,986 pounds each week. New England manufactures 73 and three-fourths per cent. and Massachusetts 38 per cent. of all the wool used in the United States. The sets of machinery run in the mills of Massachusetts numbered 1,467 in 1865, while those in New York were only 576. The total wool clip of the United States in 1866, was 137,000,000 of pounds, and the amount of foreign wool imported the same year was 55,862,284 pounds. Of 931 mills, 767 used domestic wool, and only 46 mills in the whole Union used imported wool alone. It is estimated that there are now nearly 1,600 woolen mills in the United States, containing about 5,000 sets of carding machines, and capable of consuming 150,000,000 pounds of wool each year.

Of shoddy and mungo, 65,000,000 pounds are consumed annually in England. This is more than our whole wool clip in 1860. The manufacture of those articles employs 25,000 hands, and the value of their product is represented as being about $30,000,000.

The wool clip of California for 1868, will undoubtedly be much heavier than any of its predecessors. It is estimated that the upper Sacramento Valley counties alone, will produce about half a million of dollars' worth. All our warehouses are packed full, and the yield of the State has been estimated as high as 12,000,000 pounds. It must be evident to producers that the nearer they can get their wool to the manufacturers, the greater will be their profits. Mr. Buckley, an extensive raiser of sheep in Merced county, has imported a flock of twelve choice Cotswold sheep from New York. This has been erroneously thought to be the first introduction of the Cotswolds into California. Several years ago, a number of gentlemen extensively engaged in wool-growing, purchased a number of these sheep and landed them here in excellent condition, whence they were taken to the southern part of the State. It was soon found that they required to be fed on grain nine months of the year, for in this State the pasture does not last green and vigorous but a little more than three months, when it dries up and becomes cured hay, a substance not well suited to the thriftiness of Cotswolds. When "severely" crossed with Merinos the wool of the produce was of a singularly anomalous character. In some individuals it was coarse, moderately long, and in no wise partaking of the Merino character. In others it was short, curly, and exhibiting no trace of the Cotswold breed; and in others, again, it was very mixed and indefinite. The Importers sold their Cotswolds, which soon after ceased to be heard from, and passed out of memory; yet, it is not improbable that they would do well in some portions of Oregon, where the climate is more like that of New York.

Washington Territory.

[From the Olympia Transcript.]

LAND SALES.

The lands of this Territory are being rapidly appropriated, and a large amount of it by actual settlers. From the 4th to the 13th of this month, the land office in this place did a lively business. The sales by cash entry amounting to 2,817 acres, $3,518 75; 2,009 acres of which were entered on Saturday the 13th; homesteads located, 640 acres; homesteads proved up, 1,440 acres; pre-emptions taken, 1,440 acres, making a total of 6,337 acres of land taken in nine days, and yet there are those who would make it appear that there is no good land, no country on the Sound. A few short years will dispel that illusion. On the Lower Chehalis there are several townships without a single settler on them, and which contain many fine large prairies, the soil of which is surpassingly rich. The most desirable claims, the choicest tracts of land and the most eligible are fast being located. We know of seven men having arrived in this country from Oregon since our last issue, in search of homes for themselves and friends. They are all gone down the Chehalis to look at the country. Some of them at least think before locating they will see the Swinomish tide-lands. Our country is settling up handsomely, yet there is room for thousands more.

TERMINUS SEEKERS.

There are a number of men still seeking the "terminus." Hunting parties, fishing parties, and rusticating parties are often seen, all along the Sound, from this place to Puyallup bay, looking, sounding the depth, prospecting the bottom, and otherwise displaying a desire to find the place. Some have already located at Jeal's place, some at Johnson's Point, some at Devil's Head, some at Nisqually, others at Steilacoom, while Commencement City is being rapidly built up on that one especial issue. All right, gentlemen, "in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom," and the thing is absolutely certain, if all the land on both sides of the Sound, from Tumwater to Seattle is entered up, the Government will realize a handsome revenue and somebody will get the terminus.

ITEMS.

We learn that the people of Steilacoom are stirring up in good earnest, not content with the establishment of a woolen factory, but are raising funds for the erection of a large steam saw mill at that place.

We learn that there is to be a big "potlatch" on the Chehalis reservation, next week. The Indians are gathering in from all quarters to receive their annuities.

The Messrs. French have the piles driven and the caps on for half the bridge across Budd's Inlet.

The Transcript expresses gratification at the appointment of B. F. Dennison as Associate Justice of the Territory, in the place of the notorious Darwin, removed.

Murder at Blackfoot.

The Lewiston Journal gives the following particulars of a murder at Reynolds City, Montana:

It seems that George Ballou, Frank Cameron and Jack Sharp had been gambling during the day, and near evening Ballou had a fight with Ned McGovern in which Ballou was worsted. Immediately after Cameron went for his rifle and Sharp for a knife, both of which were in their cabin. Sharp gave his knife—a double-edged dirk about eight inches long—to Ballou. Cameron came in front of Gordon & McQuestion's saloon evidently with the intention of finding McGovern, who was in the saloon. McQuestion came out of the saloon and attempted to take the rifle from Cameron, but was not able to do so—Gordon came out to assist him—Ballou, who, in the meantime, had been standing near the door of the saloon followed Gordon and claimed him as his friend and immediately commenced to stab him. Gordon received nine wounds, several of which are are fatal. Ballou was arrested by the citizens to await the result of Gordon's wounds. The Doctor and Sheriff were immediately sent for. On their arrival from Beartown, Gordon was dead and Ballou in the custody of a committee of miners and held until he was hung; his body was cut down by the Sheriff and buried by the citizens.

Sharp and Cameron both fled and have not been heard from up to the time of the date of our letter, though the country had been searched for several day, by horsemen.

Ballou was formerly of Placerville, I. T., and a ditch owner at that place. He was once cut by Bill Mayfield on the face at Florence.

Mr. Gordon was a native of Brooklyn, N. J., a quiet citizen and in no way concerned with Ballou's difficulties during the day prior to being cut. He is known to many in this section, having followed packing from Umatilla and the Dalles.

The Chicago Tribune Company have commenced the erection of a splendid four story building, with a front of seventy feet, on the corner of Dearborn and Madison streets. It is to be completed by December next, and will cost $175,000, and will be one of the most complete newspaper offices in the country.

"Civil Service Reform."

It will be remembered that in March last, a bill was introduced into Congress by Mr. Jenckes of Rhode Island, for the establishment of a civil service bureau. One of the provisions of the bill is that the Vice President, or the President pro tem of the Senate, shall be made the head of the new Department, and also act in the capacity of presiding officer of the "Civil Service Examination Board." This Board is to consist of himself and four Commissioners, who are to prescribe the qualifications for each branch and grade of the department under the General Government. This Board will also have exclusive jurisdiction over the examination of persons making application for appointments and shall decide as to their fitness and eligibility for office. Preference in each branch and grade is to be awarded in the order of merit, from among those who have successfully passed the test of examination. The Chicago Republican, in a leading editorial on the important reform in the civil affairs of the General Government, says:

"The people will rejoice that the impeachment trial is over, if for no other reason than that we shall soon be able to have legislation on several matters of importance. Our cumbrous and inoperative revenue system has been only partially remodeled. The tariff has not yet undergone the revision demanded by surrounding circumstances. A fixed policy touching our vast public debt is yet to be devised and put in operation. Plans of retrenchment in the army and navy are still to be adopted. Arkansas and other Southern States are knocking at the door of the Union for re-admission.

"Not least in importance among the proposed reforms that will come up for consideration, will be the innovation in our civil service system, championed by Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Island. His bill on this subject was referred, on the 23d of March last, to the House Committee on Retrenchment.

"Our present plan of making appointments to office is wrong in principle and inexpedient in policy. It breeds inefficiency in every Department of the Government, and subserves no purpose of the general welfare. Official places and salaries are now the rewards for partisan zeal. Apt managers of election imbroglios; adroit manipulators of nominating machinery; eloquent stump speakers, without executive abilities; and keen fellows who know how to get voters out to the polls, all expect some easy official position as recompense for their faithful exertions. All the true interests of the people are in favor of ending at once and forever such a system of patronage.

"Mr. Jenckes' bill substitutes the principle of comparative examinations for office. It proposes that the Vice President, or the President pro tem. of the Senate, shall be made the head of a new "Department of the Civil Service," and presiding officer of the "Civil Service Examining Board," to consist of himself and four Commissioners, who are to prescribe the qualifications for each branch and grade of the civil service and the General Government, and to hold examinations of all persons claiming to be eligible under their regulations, and asking for appointments. Preference, in each branch and grade, is to be awarded in the order of merit, from among those who have successfully passed the test of examination. Special examinations may be required by any department of the Government, or ordered by the Board itself. Promotion may be made in the order of seniority, though precedence may also be determined by further examination.

"A small fee may be exacted of applicants, which is to go into the United States Treasury. The Board may prescribe general rules for the suspension of civil officers for misconduct and inefficiency. They may also employ "men of learning and high character" to assist in determining the qualifications of petitioners. Par[illegible] filling positions may be ordered, at the instance of the head of any department, before the Board for re-examination, and may be dismissed if found incompetent. The competition for office is to be open to all citizens of the United States, male and female, but the heads of departments may designate the branches of the service which may be filled with females as well as males, and for these places alone shall the former class be considered eligible.

"The foregoing provisions are limited to officers that do not require confirmation by the Senate. But section twelve of the bill permits the President or the Senate, to order before the Board, for examination, any person requiring confirmation, even after he shall have been confirmed, as well as before, the result of such examination to be reported to the President and the Senate for their information and action.

"This new system of appointment to office is imitated from that prevailing in Great Britain, which has been productive of such beneficial and satisfactory results. While it retains the essential features of the plan there in vogue, it is simpler, and leaves details to grow up as circumstances shall determine.

"The passage of this bill would work a revolution in the civil administration of the country. Incompetency would be driven out of office; and the idleness which so long fattened on salaries never earned would be forced to seek a livelihood by giving a day's labor for a day's pay. The knowledge that changes in administration would not make it necessary for office-holders to pack their trunks, to give place to a swarm of new appointees, would lead men of the highest character and qualifications to become applicants for posts of trust and profit under the Government.

"Whether the bill shall fail this session of Congress, or wait several years to be passed into a law, we believe that it, or one embodying its principle, will finally be enacted. It will commend itself more and more to the good sense of the people, who will compel a recognition of its claims. It promises to be too fruitful of beneficial results to be stifled. It has met the favorable consideration of newspapers representing both political parties, and will be by them brought before public attention until it shall take its place upon the statute book, along with other salutary reforms demanded by enlightened public opinion."

Ross at Home.

The pastor of the Unitarian Church at Lawrence, Kansas, writes as follows:

It is indeed to us a source of the keenest mortification that for the second time the cause of freedom has been betrayed in our representation in the national councils. When, two years ago, Lane covered himself with ignominy, Edward G. Ross, then an associate editor in one of our city papers, denounced his purchaser in unmeasured terms. He spoke of Johnson as the betrayer of the cause of loyalty and freedom, started a call for a public meeting to condemn him, repudiate Lane and sustain Congress, and, owing to being one of the city editors, was one of the committee on resolutions, which were of the most stringent kind. Overwhelmed with disgrace and execration, Lane committed suicide. Ross, an exceedingly mediocre man—(scores more capable than he could easily be found in Lawrence)—was selected as his successor, specifically on the ground that though a very ordinary person, he was an honest reliable, thorough going Radical, whose political antecedents were of the most satisfactory kind. His unsuccessful competitor was a very unscrupulous man, who spent a fortune in the attempt to buy the seat. His defeat and Ross' election caused great rejoicing. "Now we have an honest delegation," it was very generally said.

Ross has always been a poor man; few, if any, now doubt his being very rich. The feeling against him in this city is intense—a feeling extending throughout the State. His character is forever blasted as that of an infamous renegade and traitor. On the 6th inst., after the trial of Johnson had closed, he wrote to a friend in Lawrence that the case had been made out, and while expressing fears that some Senators would be recreant, imperilling the result, declared unequivocally for conviction.

There are over fourteen hundred colored children in the schools of Wilmington, North Carolina. It is an infernal outrage against Democracy, as a few years schooling will place them beyond the influence of that delectable party.

The Humboldt Branch

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel.]

We learn by our Washington correspondence that Mr. Pengra has become satisfied of the impossibility of securing Congressional aid for a branch railroad to tap the great Pacific trunk by way of Diamond Peak. Meeting with the opposition of our whole delegation, and with that of other citizens of Oregon in Washington, he has started back in disgust. We also have the bill of Mr. Mallory, asking for assistance to a branch road to run through Umpqua and Rogue river valleys and the Cascade range bordering on the east of this valley, pass through the river settlements, and continue by [illegible] valley to the line of the Pacific railroad. As the topographical character of the country from Ashland to the head of the Willamette valley is of such a character, that the aid asked for might conflict with the Oregon Central, the bill provides for the consolidation of the two companies from such point where conflict might occur. The effect of the bill will really be to [illegible] the Oregon Central [illegible], or perhaps the Klamath [illegible] in pushing forward the work to speedy completion. The Oregon Central will end at the State boundary, and a [illegible] to the Pacific road would certainly hasten the completion of the California and Oregon road in order to reap some of the advantages that will certainly be gained by us. We have strong hope that the bill [illegible] law, perhaps at the present session, and if it is, we may soon expect an industrial activity not heretofore experienced in Oregon. If Government can be induced to [illegible] half the sum per mile, necessary to build it, we candidly believe that in ten years it would save that amount in transportation of supplies, munitions of war and [illegible] having aided our young State to [illegible] wealth. Without such aid we can [illegible] but little prosperity; and we believe that Congress is called upon, not only by duty, but by interest, to give it [illegible].

"Visible Admixture" [illegible]

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, June 24.]

The "Visible Admixture Law," so [illegible] forced through the Ohio Legislature, has come to a sudden death by a decision of the Chief Justice, at Columbus, on Friday. The facts upon which the action is founded are as follows: At an election in the Fourth Ward of Xenia, a few weeks since, George W. Collins, a mulatto and student at Wilberforce College, offered his ballot, which was rejected by the judges in accordance with the "Visible Admixture Law." Collins [illegible] an action in the Court of Common Pleas, of Greene county, [illegible] law was pronounced [illegible]. The [illegible] was carried to the District Court, where the law was pronounced unconstitutional and [illegible]. The election judges then came into the Supreme Court and asked for [illegible] a petition in error. The Chief Justice [illegible] to grant permission, and affirmed the decision of the District Court, on the ground that the Visible Admixture law was [illegible] and therefore null and void. [illegible] mocracy have been [illegible] tard." The shell has [illegible] and all the elaborate [illegible] the purity of [illegible] been knocked [illegible]. The [illegible] will not rejoice, but they must [illegible] iniquity sometimes [illegible] unexpected ways. This [illegible] lished in the Ohio statute [illegible] so that hereafter judges of [illegible] no notice of the Visible Admixture Law. The law disfranchising [illegible] pronounced unconstitutional, null and void.

WEED AND CHASE.—It is well known that Thurlow Weed has an intense [illegible]. In a recent article he indulges in this [illegible] tion:

"The appointment of Mr. Chase to the Chief Justiceship was one of the [illegible] mended to the lips of Mr. Lincoln, who accepted it as the only means of [illegible] Cleveland Convention. [illegible] a more [illegible] among all the aspirants [illegible] Presidency, than Salmon P. Chase. He is opposed to impeachment for two reasons: First, because it makes Mr. Wade President; and, second because it would [illegible] the Democratic nomination for P[illegible]."

The Democratic Dilemma

It is said that an attempt will be made to get a resolution through the Democratic National Convention pledging the party to resist the counting of any electoral votes from the restored States in favor of the Republican candidates, if such votes shall have been secured by the aid of the lately enfranchised blacks A resolution to this effect was adopted in the Democratic State Convention of California not long ago and something of the same kind has been hinted at by the party in Kentucky Whether or not they would object to the counting of such votes in favor of their own party they do not expressly say but the natural supposition is that they would raise no objection to the Southern electoral vote, secured by negro suffrage if it would only go for their own candidates

But there is no probability that any resolution of this kind will be adopted The Convention will be controlled by men who have political judgment enough to discern the "situation," The Southern blacks will vote in the Presidential election, and it is all important to the Democratic party to secure a share of them Some of the leaders of the party frankly say that they must get a portion of the negro vote or make up their minds at the offstart to be defeated If they adopt such a resolution as the "fierce Democracie" of California want they will lose the whole negro vote, and with it will go all chances of success" As regards the threat of resistance and revolution in case the Republicans carry the election by having the aid of the colored voters of the South, that is all stuff and nonsense The Southern State governments which Congress is now recognizing are bound to stand They cannot be overthrown, nor can those States be prevented from participating in the election The Democratic party must shape its course in accordance with this state of things Therefore it need not surprise any one if that party begins at once, and in earnest, to trim its sails to catch the breeze from Africa. The leaders of the party at the West are already to have forgotten that such [illegible] ever existed as that of a "white man's government"

We have said, that reconstruction must stand. The Democratic party must recognize it, or refusing, lose every hope of success The [illegible] rebellious States, organized and represented in Congress, become entitled to all the rights of other States. The question of their admission being decided, the lawfulness of their organization has been settled by the [illegible] of last [illegible] Neither the Executive, the [illegible] nor any subsequent Congress can put a State out of the Union after its government has been recognized as [illegible] and its representatives admitted to their places in Congress. The decision which Congress makes when it acts [illegible] as a member of the Union and admitted to representation, is final and irrevocable. Even if it were otherwise, the fact would avail the Democratic party nothing The [illegible] is against them, and must continue to be against them for four years more in any event; so that if they should carry the White House they would still be powerless to [illegible] the decision which has been made Reconstruction therefore can not be lawfully overturned Nor can it be overturned by re[illegible] The experience of the past shows that it is not [illegible] in this country to make a [illegible] a success.

This is the state of things which the Democratic party is forced to grapple with, and it is chiefly this which causes that party to talk so seriously of cutting loose from its old notions and theories, and taking Chase or some other "Abolitionist" as a candidate It is easy to see that the dilemma is a serious one If the party could have its way it would not [illegible] of any one for a candidate except a strenuous opponent of the war, a bitter enemy of emancipation and an uncompromising foe of impartial suffrage; but its leaders know that it can never win by [illegible] such a man forward. Hence the Chase movement and the general [illegible] now to be witnessed in the [illegible] Democracy.

The Whisky Ring and the Whisky Tax

The bill has passed the House reducing the tax on whisky to fifty cents per gallon There will be a variety of opinions as to the expediency and wisdom of this measure but it is certain that while the tax has stood at two dollars [illegible] considerable portion of it has been collected. The money which the Government has been swindled out of by whisky [illegible] has [illegible] the proportions of a vast corruption fund, and is being used in the interest of the Democratic party The reduction of the tax will put a quietus upon many of these schemes, which will be a great point gained, even if under the new arrangement the Government does not obtain more revenue than under the old. It would seem to be quite impossible that it should obtain less, whatever the rate at which the tax is fixed

There were shipped from New York during the months of January, February, March and April, 1,444,767 bushels of wheat, against 394 010 for the same time in 1867, and 58 562 for the corresponding months in 1866 Of corn there was exported in the same time 4 168 633 bushels against 516,923 bushels for the corresponding time in 1867 and 493,025 for the same months in 1866 The increase in the exports of corn, for these three months, when lake and canal navigation was closed, was thus nearly four million of bushels over that of last year These items give some idea of the amount of grain transportation from the West to the seaboard that has been done by the railroads as well as of the large market that our breadstuffs have found in Europe and particularly in Great Britain

A Detroit paper mentions as a singular fact that there are in Michigan a couple of hundred men who have no visible means of support but to attend Democratic conventions It is not a phenomenon In this State there are many strapping Democrats who get their living, such as it is, by disreputable party service They are political vagabonds, dependent on party charity for support Their party keeps a sort of "Freedmen's Bureau" for their maintenance Considerable numbers of them have been kept in Portland for a long time

The San Francisco Examiner (Democratic) says that ninety nine per cent of the school teachers have Republican proclivities. Republicans ought to be able to stand that charge if Democrats can.

The Umatilla Press says that more rain has fallen at that place during the last two weeks than during the whole of the last two winters

A private letter from Senator Corbett states that he intends visiting Oregon during the fall Senator Williams is also expected to return in time to take part in the approaching Presidential canvass

There is a warehouse at Lafayette capable of storing 50,000 bushels of grain It is conveniently located on the bank of the river yet out of reach of all possible high water It is being still further enlarged to meet the demands of shippers of grain

The Record says The new warehouse of Mr A L Buckingham on the Polk county side of the river is almost finished, and Mr Gibson has commenced the erection of a store at the same point, which will be stocked with goods in due course of time.

A camp meeting (Methodist) has been in progress for several days on Rock Creek in Clackamas county Up to Sunday last there had been twenty one accessions to the Church It was intended to continue the meeting for a week longer though the weather has probably forbidden it

The editor of a Salem paper lately saw a letter written by a resident of Illinois who thinks of removing to this State, earnestly inquiring if we have "any volcanoes in Oregon, as his wife don't fancy going to a country where they have volcanoes!" It is hardly possible that such timid people would trust themselves upon a steamboat a railroad or even an ox wagon, to get here

THE ENEMY WE FIGHT Union men, here is the style of talk of Democratic journals in regard to the brave defenders of our Union against traitors. This sample is from the Stockton (Cal) Gazette

If ever a lot of thieving, vagabond "bummers" escaped the halter and were turned loose to plunder at will that lot certainly marched under the leadership of William Tecumseh Sherman The Radicals have well and truly adopted a new name Yes gentlemen, henceforth let "bummer" be inscribed upon your banners, and as you rally round your Squeezer, bearing the flag you used to denounce as "a flaunting lie, remember that you are a lot of "bummers," and don't get out of your depth Now rally!

Better, says the Sacramento Record, that the soldiers of Lee had struck down every Union defender on the field than that such men as now compose the Democracy should win at the next Presidential election

A DEMOCRATIC ORGAN'S OPINION OF WORKINGMEN.—The New York Sunday Mercury, the organ of the kid glove Democracy, in speaking of Grant, has the following fling at workingmen

His career has been marked by a vulgar and plebeian mediocrity, by a coarse and low bred and groveling style of pursuits, such as working in a [illegible] a pioneer to cobblers and [illegible] and whenever he has acquired a [illegible] distinction in these low pursuits, it has been as a common exemplar of the trade to which he devoted his mechanical acquirements.

The dispatches state that the election of Mississippi, so far, shows a "Democratic" majority If this is true the blacks are undoubtedly voting Democratic, as the registration showed 62,091 blacks to 47,434 whites. It will be remembered, however, that the first reports from similar elections in all the other Southern States were disproved by fuller returns. The same may be the result in Mississippi

Speaking of the Oregon election the San Francisco Examiner exclaims with the wildest enthusiasm, "The country is safe!" Inasmuch as it required the importation of about a couple of thousand of the Ku Klux Klan to carry the election in this State for the Democracy, the Jacksonville Sentinel presumes the Examiner refers to the part of the country from which they made their exodus.

MISCELLANEOUS STATISTICS.

In the [illegible] northern counties of the Territory, there are 8 large mill companies located at Port Orchard, Port [illegible], Port Madison, Teekalet, Seabeck, Port Ludlow, Port Discovery and Utsalady, and one small mill at Seattle. These nine companies run ten saw-mills and one flouring mill. One coal company working mines at Se[illegible] county, and another making arrangements to open the mines at Lake Washington, near [illegible]. Following is the number of men employed in the different mills and mines 580; outside laborers at and about the mills and mines, 260; men employed in ship-building and repairing, 80; men engaged in [illegible] furnishing spars, 420; men, in the above counties engaged in mechanical and farming pursuits, not above enumerated, 870; women and children in the district, 1,160; total white population, 3,940.

In addition to the above, there is a transient population of about 400 men, employed on board vessels in the coasting and foreign trade.

The demand for Puget Sound lumber was never more active than at the present time. The mills are all working their full capacity, and are unable to supply the demand.

All military [illegible] companies, civil societies, clubs and others, having been invited to participate in [illegible], they would greatly facilitate preparations [illegible] the committee by responding as early as [illegible] to Chas. His [illegible] with him all the time and, yesterday, his [illegible] went out to see him. Mr. J. T. [illegible] MASONS.—The officers elect of the Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. of Oregon, were publicly installed at Oro [illegible] last evening. The ceremonies are simple yet [illegible] and solemn. The hall was filled with [illegible] of the order and interested spectators.

[illegible] IN WANT OF PHOTOGRAPHS, we would say that [illegible] is the time to visit Buchtel's Gallery, where [illegible] and finest styles may be had. J. H. Mont[illegible]

WE CALL ATTENTION to the fine assortment of Parlor Suits and Marble Tables at the Warerooms of Hurgren & Shindler. The work looks beautifully and well done, and as they buy their frames from manufacturers of reputation at the East, are put together and upholstered by workmen of many years' experience here, we do not see that there is any need that any Oregonian should be so foolish as to buy in San Francisco Parlor Suits for more money than what a better class of goods can be furnished here by Messrs. Hurgren & Shindler.

THE FOURTH OF JULY HAT, suitable for warm weather, will be introduced to-day, Saturday, June 20th, at J. C. Meussdorffer & Bros. This Hat is manufactured entirely by steam in this city. It is light, tidy and airy, and price very reasonable. Call and examine.

SEASONABLE.—Those stylish Summer Suits, direct from New York, and for sale by Wm. Currier & Co., 103 Front street.

Having used the "GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE" for many years, I take great pleasure in recommending it to the public, as I believe it superior to all others that have come under my notice. MRS MATTHEW CROOKS.

HONESTY is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is a genuine preparation of that unequalled spring medicine and blood purifier, decidedly superior to the poor imitations heretofore in the market. Trial proves it.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.
Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Fortifies the System against [illegible] and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves [illegible] tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL [illegible]
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, [illegible] Debility, Nervousness, Despondency, [illegible], Intermittent Fevers, [illegible]
Cramps and Spasms, and all [illegible] of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness [illegible] in the [illegible]
PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re[illegible] and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

To a Swill-Cart.

Walt Whitman, the "Wild Bison" of poet-literature, has recently been travestied by a Boston wit in the following verses:

Incomprehensible Swill-cart!
Are you aware that you fill me with wonder?
What things have been in you!
What things may yet be in you!
Doesn't your owner (probably a Hibernian) often live off you as a means of obtaining his daily meals, the chief ingredient of which is the wholesome potato?
Swill-cart, you are like life, and men are like swill-carts.
Pah!
Likewise "Ugh!"
You make me sick, O Swill-cart, and I drive you from my mind.

Abyssinia.

BRITISH REPORTS OF THE STORMING OF MAGDALA—THE CAPTURE AND SUICIDE OF THEODORE—APPEARANCE OF THE KING'S BODY.

By the steamship America, we have the English special newspaper correspondence from Abyssinia detailing the cannonade, storming, capture and destruction of Magdala by Napier's army. The main points of each event have been already published, but the following incidents narrated by the British writers are not without interest notwithstanding:

[Before Magdala (April 14) Cor. London Times.]

THE CANNONADE AND ITS EFFECTS.

Magdala has been taken, and Theodorus killed by his own hand, lies, under the guard of a British sentinel, in the last and strongest of the wondrous series of his strongholds. It would be affectation to pity a tyrant who himself knew no pity, who was unscrupulous and crafty as he was cruel, and who had indeed every reason to style himself the "Scourge of God" sent to punish the people.

Yesterday nothing was left to the imagination; the tragedy was forced in all its naked horror upon our revolted senses. A strange smell, for which there was no apparent cause, made some of our party look over the edge of a steep cliff, almost within a few yards of the spot from which the guns were beginning to play upon Magdala, and there on a ledge about fifty feet below them, lay two large heaps of mangled human bodies, closely piled upon each other in ghastly confusion, their limbs protruding from the mass in all sorts of repulsive attitudes and contortions, and presenting altogether a scene of horror such as no pen could adequately describe, could any pen be found to undertake the task.

[illegible]

Magdala was blazing this afternoon, and dense columns of fire and smoke from its lofty [illegible] are still proclaiming far and wide to the [illegible] tribes of semi-savage warriors who [illegible] the surrounding country [illegible] the [illegible] of their great enemy is [illegible], and the crowning act of England's [illegible] performed. The town itself was unimportant, [illegible] from its accidental associations as the prison of our fellow-countrymen and other Europeans, even for Abyssinia, a charge so grave that no man, it is to be hoped, would lightly bring against any town calling itself Christian. It consisted of the ordinary collection of huts, most of them built of grass and wood, with thatched conical roofs, and did not boast even one building of exceptional beauty or importance. The church was one of the meanest and dirtiest that we have seen in Abyssinia, while the palace of the great Emperor Theodore differed only from the many surrounding huts of his humblest subjects in being some larger, two storied and with a thatched roof, not conical but oblong, giving it much the appearance of an English barn; except that no decent English farmer would allow any animal that he valued to live in a building so dark, dirty and ill-ventilated. In the [illegible] of his European [illegible], of course, many signs of modern civ[illegible] [illegible] all of a prac[illegible] strictly [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] tools and [illegible] [illegible] mixed up with [illegible] censers, mitres, bells—the spoils of Gondar churches—Amharic Bibles, odd volumes of [illegible], fools-cap [illegible], old watch hooks, pistols, swords, powder flasks and percussion caps, formed altogether as strange a jumble as it would be easy [illegible].

The "loot," on the whole, has rather disappointed the captors. Mr. Holmes, for instance, who came out here as archaeologist for the British Museum, and who has hitherto had a singularly disappointing and unfruitful journey, was lucky enough to [illegible] crown, probably an archbishop's, and a gold chalice, bearing the following inscription in Amharic:

"The chalice of King Adam Segud, called [illegible] the son of Queen Brehni Mogus, presented to Kwesqwam Sanctuary (Gondar). May my body and soul be purified. Weight twenty-five workkits of pure gold, value five hundred dollars. Made by Waldo Georgis."

The Emperor's own crown has also been found, and is, I believe, to be sent home to the Queen.

THEODORE'S LAST MOMENTS—DISCOVERY AND [illegible] OF THE BODY AND ITS APPEARANCE.

I saw in the hands of an English soldier what, [illegible] the circumstances, was certainly a very singular and interesting [illegible], a six barrelled revolver, with an inscription declaring [illegible] by the [illegible] to the [illegible], in token of her gratitude [illegible] shown by him to her [illegible]." The [illegible] told me that he [illegible] with this inscription, and [illegible] fight to get one for him [illegible] only [illegible] given up to the [illegible] agents. It is a curious instance of the irony of [illegible] that it is not [illegible] one of [illegible] pistols [illegible] of the [illegible] gratitude for kindness shown by [illegible] that Theodorus shot [illegible] at the approach of a British soldier; for [illegible] is no doubt that he did [illegible] himself. A soldier of the Thirty-third [illegible] that he witnessed the act, and, what is more important, both the medical men on the committee appointed to identify the body and inquire into the cause of his death declared unhesitatingly that the fatal wound must have been self-inflicted. Twice his followers [illegible] him in sullen, resentful disobedience when summoned to [illegible], and [illegible] refused, when he invited them as the last chance to fly from Magdala, to accompany him and any longer share his fortune. Even his favorite and most distinguished chiefs, the very men who in the end remained faithful and died with him, seem to have wavered strangely between their old allegiance and their new-born distrust.

Shortly afterward, Theodore and the chiefs retired within Magdala and there awaited the advance of the British. As the first soldiers appeared above the stockade the chiefs were shot down, but Theodore, who had already dropped his royal robes of silk to escape observation, fled from the gateway to a retired spot higher upon the citadel, and there shot himself, putting his pistol into his mouth. From the plainness of his dress the body was not at first recognized, but as soon as it was identified, and, upon the approach of Sir Robert Napier, drawn forth into the principal pathway, an involuntary cheer burst forth from the soldiers around. Such a cheer over the body of a fallen foe rather jarred up their nerves, but still it was natural and pardonable enough, for at bottom it meant, not exultation over the death of an enemy, but delight at the sudden discovery beyond all doubt, that the last object of a tedious campaign had been accomplished, and that there was nothing to prevent the force from turning its face in triumph home. Theodore's escape was dreaded up to the latest moment as the possible source of further detention in Abyssinia, and the soldiers would have been more than human if they had repressed the first outburst of joy at discovering that from this dreaded evil they were now safe.

Theodorus' body was found, not near those of his chiefs in the gateway, but alone on the hill above. After sending you a telegram to say that he had killed himself, I heard that the Commander-in-Chief had telegraphed home that he was killed in battle, and this now seems to be the belief of those who are perhaps likely to know best. His face seemed to me rather a disappointed one after all that has been said about it, but then it was impossible to judge properly after death, especially as the eye was said to be, from its fire and expression, the most remarkable feature. There was a look of bloated, sensual indulgence about the cheeks by no means heroic or kingly, but the forehead was intellectual and the mouth singularly determined and cruel. A very strange smile still lingered about the lips, as if even in the death-throe his last thought had been one of triumph at having baulked his conquerors by dying.

The German Festivities.

The "Saengerbund," one of the two grand international German festivals, appointed for this year, was held at Chicago last week. This "singing festival" lasted five days. Representatives were present from many German cities. The other festival will be that of "Schutzen Corps," and it is expected that it will be still grander than was the "Saengerbund." It will be held in New York City, and will begin on the 25th June, and last until the 6th July. Of this approaching festival the New York Times says:

The preparations for this shooting festival are being faithfully conducted by a Committee consisting of about 100 gentlemen, and subdivided into committees on finance, reception, shooting, press, decorations, buildings, etc. The place selected for the shooting contest is Jones' wood. The structures necessary for the occasion are now in the course of construction by Messrs. Schuler & Schon. The cost of the same will reach if not exceed $40,000. These buildings will, after the end of the festival, remain the property of the owner of Jones' Wood, and will be a lasting ornament to that popular place of amusement. The great hall will be large enough to seat 5,000 persons at dinner at the same time. The decorations of the hall will be of a superior kind, and among the most attractive features of the ground. The principal buildings besides this hall will be the shooting gallery itself, in which 56 targets will be erected.

The prizes to be competed for are numerous as well as costly, consisting partly of cash in sums of $500 and less, and of other presents of considerable value to be given by the lady friends of the different societies and by the societies themselves. In addition to these, the committee of the grand shooting festival to be held in Vienna, Austria, this year, have given notice of their intention to send a prize amounting to about $806 in gold, and the New York committee have resolved to return the compliment by forwarding to their brethren in Germany a first-class pianoforte, valued at $1,500, which will at the same time represent American art in the very cradle of piano manufacture.

One of the most interesting points in this affair will be the examination and trial of firearms, especially breech-loaders, by a commission of competent military gentlemen selected from our regular army and militia. It is proposed to make this trial a thorough one, and the result may therefore be looked for as of incalculable public interest.

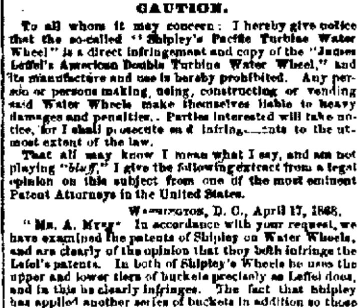
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute on all infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS: In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tier of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours, DODGE & MUNN."

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern:—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the Law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which, if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him!

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-[illegible]. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow count[illegible], dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] rily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or [illegible] who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and [illegible] too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, news paper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat dis[illegible] that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 952.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 952 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
